National roads declared in Zambales, Cavite, Batangas, Cotabato - DPWH

Courtesy: Department of Public Works and Highways/ Facebook

The Department of Public Works and Highways (DPWH) has declared new national roads in the provinces of Zambales, Cavite, and Batangas in Luzon, and Cotabato in Mindanao.

In a post on X (formerly Twitter), the DPWH said Saturday the new national roads would "pav[e] the way for improved connectivity and promote economic growth."

The newly declared national roads are:

Zambales

- * Subic Bypass Road (7 kilometers)
- * Rizal Avenue (523 meters)

Under the jurisdiction of Zambales 2nd District

Engineering Office in Region 3 (Central Luzon)

Cavite

- * Imus-Bacoor Link Road (4.16 kilometers)

Under the jurisdiction of Cavite 3rd District Engineering Office, Region 4-A (Calabarzon)

Batangas

- * Batangas City-San Pascual-Bauan Diversion Road (8.9 kilometers)
- * Star Tollway-Pinamucan Bypass Road (4.76 kilometers)

Under the jurisdiction of Batangas 2nd District Engineering Office, Region 4-A (Calabarzon)

Cotabato

- * Midsayap Diversion Road (7.76 kilometers)

Under the jurisdiction of Cotabato 1st District Engineering Office, Region 12 (Soccsksargen)

Managed by the DPWH, national roads connect cities to key infrastructure, such as airports and seaports.

LPU Cavite celebrates media excellence with Laurus Nobilis awards

Lyceans once again honored media professionals during the 3rd Laurus Nobilis Media Excellence Awards held at Lyceum of the Philippines University – Cavite last March 28 in celebration of the media's role in inspiring future generations and shaping public discourse.

Film Development Council of the Philippines Chairman and CEO Jose Javier "Direk Joey" Reyes led the Laurus Nobilis 2025 awardees for his contribution to Philippine media and cinema.

Direk Joey lauded the event in a video sent to the organizers, "Most especially at a time when there is an overflow of information, when there are various vessels and vehicles of distorted truth, people dedicated to the honesty and truthfulness of media is of utmost imperative."

"To all the students of media right now, yours is the responsibility to correct the errors that have been created by generations

Strengthening Food Safety and Gastronomic Tourism: DOST R02, DOST-FNRI and DOT R02 Conduct Training on Food Safety Grading System

To enhance food safety standards and elevate food-related tourism in the region, the Department of Science and Technology (DOST) Region 02, in collaboration with the Department of Tourism (DOT) Region 02, conducted a two-day training on the Food Safety Grading System from April 2 to 3, 2025, at Go Hotels, Tuguegarao City.

Through experts from the DOST-Food and Nutrition Research Institute (DOST-FNRI), the training introduced a standardized Food Inspection Checklist (FIC), Code of Standards (COS), and Operations Manual (OM), providing participants with essential tools to strengthen food safety measures in micro, small, and medium enterprise (MSME) food establishments. This initiative also aims to support regulatory enforcement and further establish the region as a premier ►STRENGTHENING • 6

PM CJ: Gas Pipeline Explosion in Malaysia Proves that LNG is Indeed Deadly

Batangas, Philippines — The recent gas pipeline explosion in Malaysia has sparked widespread concern, especially among climate justice groups in the Philippines.

The Philippine Movement for Climate Justice (PM CJ) expressed deep concern over a gas pipeline explosion near Kuala Lumpur, Malaysia, on April 1. The blast, caused by a burst gas pipe, resulted in a massive fire visible for miles and left at least 145 people hospitalized, with over 41 having since been discharged. The fire, originating from a pipeline operated by Petronas, Malaysia's national oil company, damaged at least 190 homes and forced evacuations in nearby areas.

This explosion underscores the significant risks associated with gas infrastructure. Similarly, pipelines are essential for producing and transporting natural gas, including liquefied natural gas (LNG), highlighting the risks and dangers these incidents pose to public health and safety.

"The risks posed by LNG infrastructure are not theoretical. The explosion in Malaysia mirrors similar dangers faced by the Philippines. For example, a pipeline explosion could impact thousands of lives in Batangas. The 504-kilometer pipeline running from the Malampaya Onshore Facilities passes through several barangays, including Haligue Kanluran, Haligue Silangan, and down to Ilijan. Another route stretches from Malampaya toward Tabangao Ambulong and reaches as far as Sta. Rita. If an explosion like the one in Malaysia were to occur in Batangas, at least 29 thousand people could be affected in said barangays; and possibly, the whole city, which according to 2022 data, is more than 360 thousand people," said PM CJ Batangas Province Lead on Climate and Energy Transition Agnes Ilagan.

These risks are real and have already caused physical harm and threatened the health and livelihoods of many residents. Ilagan recalled that last June 2024, there was an explosion sighted on an LNG tanker of FSRU BW Batangas which endangered the lives of nearby residents.

Although LNG is labeled by the Philippine government and energy companies as a 'cleaner' alternative to coal, it is far from ideal. Its environmental and health impacts cannot be overlooked, and the risks it poses to public safety demand urgent attention.

"LNG does not lower electricity costs as promised. It does not offer a significant improvement over coal or other fossil fuels on affordability or environmental impact. In fact, it is just as harmful, and in many cases, even more dangerous, considering the risks associated with LNG infrastructure and accidents," said PM CJ Senior Energy Officer Larry Pascua.

Pascua further emphasizes that, "Renewable energy, on the other hand, provides a cleaner, safer, and more sustainable solution that will not only help lower costs in the long run but also safeguard our health and the planet."

In light of this tragedy, PM CJ also condemned the continued reliance on gas as an energy source in Asian countries. The organization emphasizes the urgent need to reconsider fossil gas use due to its environmental risks and potential for disasters; like the one in Malaysia.

"As these dirty companies make Batangas the LNG hub of the Philippines, more and more communities oppose LNG as it vulgarly shows how it's deadly and destructive. The recent explosion in Malaysia is a stark reminder of the risks that LNG facilities pose to public safety and the environment. With its concentration of LNG terminals and energy facilities, Batangas is particularly vulnerable to such incidents, which could have devastating effects on both human lives and local ecosystems. The US, where it is one of the leading LNG producer countries in the world, gas pipelines lack adequate regulation, inspection and enforcement. This problem is more serious in the Philippines, as the public and communities living near them are kept in the dark on the integrity of the gas pipelines and infrastructures," PM CJ National Coordinator Ian Rivera said.

"As a member of the ASEAN community, the Philippines must align itself with the region's environmental agenda, which calls for urgent action on climate change and the promotion of cleaner, safer energy alternatives. ASEAN has committed to transitioning to renewable energy, and it is time the Philippines, particularly in Batangas, accelerates this shift. By prioritizing renewable energy solutions over fossil fuels, we can safeguard our communities, protect our environment, and contribute to a more sustainable energy future for Southeast Asia," Rivera added.

PM CJ stressed that the reality is undeniable: LNG is just as dangerous and damaging as other fossil fuels, with devastating consequences for public health and the environment. President Marcos Jr.'s recent signing of the gas law only deepens our reliance on this harmful energy source when we should be urgently shifting toward renewable alternatives.

"The explosions and disasters tied to LNG infrastructure are not just accidents but warnings. These tragic events must be a wake-up call to governments, especially in the Philippines, that continuing to invest in LNG is not only reckless but untenable. The future demands a commitment to renewable energy that safeguards our communities and the planet. The time for change is now, and we cannot afford to delay any longer," Rivera ended.

BANTA NI ENRILE NA BABAWASAN ANG PREBELEHIYO PARA MGA OFW, HINDI IKINATUWA NG PINOY WORKERS

Mariing kinondena ng AKO-OFW Partylist ang ginawang pagbabanta ni Chief Presidential Legal Counsel Juan Ponce Enrile matapos nitong sabihin na babawasan ang prebelehiyo ng mga overseas filipino worker (OFW).

Ito'y kasunod ng isasagawang 'zero remittance week' ng mga OFW bilang pag-suporta kay dating pangulong Rodrigo Roa Duterte.

Ayon kay AKO-OFW nominee Joseph Rivera, hindi katanggap-tanggap at kagaspangan ng kapangyarihan kung mangyaring ganoon ang gawin ng pamahalaan para sa mga sinasabing 'bagong bayani' ng bansa.

Binigyang diin ni Rivera na ang pagtigil ng remittances ay isang ligal at hindi marahas na pagpapahayag ng mga paniniwala sa pulitika ng mga OFW, tulad ng isang nationwide strike.

Aniya, hindi dapat gamitin ng gobyerno ang Kongreso bilang isang sandata para sa pampulitikang paghihiganti laban sa mga migrant workers at sa kanilang mga karapatan.

Aminado si Rivera na malaking bahagi ng paglago sa ekonomiya ng Pilipinas ay dahil sa pamamagitan ng kanilang mga remittances o pinapadala.

Noong 2022, ang mga

padala ng mga OFW ay umabot sa $32.54 bilyon, na kumakatawan sa humigit-kumulang 9-10% ng Gross Domestic Product

(GDP) ng Pilipinas.

Ang pahayag ni Rivera ay tumalakay sa kahalagahan ng pagprotekta sa mga karapatan at kapakanan ng OFWs na may mahalagang papel sa paglago at pag-unlad ng ekonomiya ng bansa.

The Power of Unity: Ms. Doris' Inspirational Speech to Global GCV Ambassadors Conference

Dear Global, Regional, National, and Provincial Level GCV Ambassadors, as well as City Level GCV Ambassadors attending today's conference,

I would like to extend my gratitude for your presence at our inaugural global GCV Ambassadors conference following the launch of the GCV Ambassadors system on September 17 of last year. Since its inception, we have successfully issued over 100 certificates to National and Regional GCV Ambassadors through Global GCV CT. Given our rapid expansion across various regions, it is imperative that we convene to unify our mindset and actions. This conference will serve as a platform to ensure that we adhere to the PCT guidance and strategy.

It is crucial that we implement a stringent code of conduct and code of ethics for all GCV Ambassadors. Without a cohesive strategy, our collective efforts risk becoming disorganized and ineffective, reminiscent of grains of sand scattered by the wind. It is vital that we project a unified public image and demonstrate behavior that reflects our values as GCV Ambassadors, thereby fostering trust within our communities.

I have observed that many GCV Ambassadors do not yet feel a sense of team cohesion; they often fail to heed guidance and educational resources provided. This disconnection may lead to a deviation from the principles outlined by Global GCV CT. Furthermore, there have been external influences, notably the Dimas code theory, which has led some pioneers and GCV Ambassadors to adopt a passive stance, expecting outcomes without proactive engagement.

It is my belief that failure to engage with our educational resources may result in skepticism regarding our buyback strategy. Each of you, as GCV Ambassadors at the regional or national level, are responsible for guiding your communities and the millions of pioneers within them. A thorough understanding of our current situation is essential for effective leadership. Despite our ongoing communication efforts through social media platforms, there appears to be a significant gap in comprehension among some members.

Thus, the focus of this conference will be to address a pertinent question: "Why can we not wait for 100 Dapps to unite price to activate the code?"

Before delving into this topic, let us reflect on the GCV journey from June 2022 to the present.

In March and April 2022, the Chinese community established a consensus valuation of Pi at $314,159. From May to June 2022, after three International Space Conferences, the global pioneers adopted this concept, thus formalizing it as the Global Consensus Value (GCV). The GCV was conceived during this period. Between July 2022 and July 2023, the Chinese community led GCV barter transactions. However, they encountered challenges in generating GCV blockchain data due to the lack of wallet access among numerous pioneers and merchants. Consequently, they engaged in barter agreements rooted in GCV, with an estimated investment of $100 million based on their assessments. Throughout this period, I was actively involved in promoting the GCV movement within the Chinese community.

*Overview of the Global GCV Movement and Recent Developments (2023-2025) *

Between August and December 2023, I recognized that Chinese merchants were unable to generate GCV data on the blockchain. Concurrently, global pioneers were engaged in extensive debates regarding the correct value of Pi. Consequently, I shifted my focus from the Chinese community to the global stage by initiating the Global GCV Movement. I began writing articles to enhance understanding among global pioneers regarding GCV, as there was a notable lack of merchant support for this initiative. During this period, I emphasized education and organized global conferences to garner more support for GCV. Following an international conference hosted collaboratively with the Arab community, I established the Global GCV Core Team.

From December 2023 to June 2024, I urged global pioneers to create one million GCV data entries consecutively over six months to capture 60-80% of blockchain records, which would enable the source code to define GCV at a value of $314,159. At this juncture on 2024 Pi2Day, I launched the OM petition. Although many pioneers did not fully grasp the strategic implications of this initiative, we ultimately achieved our objective. On Pi2Day 2024, the Core Team acknowledged that this marked the final Pi2Day within the enclosed mainnet. This announcement signified our triumph, attributable to exceptional leadership from our amazing Global GCV Ambassadors and community leaders such as Ms. Lumari, who guided the Philippine community in generating 1.5 million GCV data entries; Ms. Nonny Padja, who led the Indonesian community to produce over three million GCV data entries; and Mr. Patrick Chao, who contributed half a million GCV data entries from Malaysia. Additionally, contributions from Taiwan China, Africa, the Arab region, Cambodia, and other nations have significantly bolstered the GCV data pool to at least 5 million GCV data on blockchain. Consequently, the GitHub source code recognizes $314,159 as the fixed value for the Pi ecosystem and as the stable price for the exchange market. However, we have not yet achieved a stable coin target in the exchange market; this remains our current task. The code can only reflect the deployment and target for the Pi price because the exchange market represents the outside world. We can fix the Pi value at GCV because this decision can be made by the community ourselves on the blockchain. Pi price can only be fixed on exchange market. Pi value is from our inside. Pi price is from outside. Please refer to my recent articles to give you more analysis.

From July to December 2024, I advocated for a dual payment system incorporating partial Pi and partial fiat to ensure mutual benefits for merchants and pioneers. We also supported the PCT in organizing the PiFest and Map of Pi events. In light of this, I devised the GCV Ambassador system to amplify our influence globally, facilitating the education of pioneers regarding GCV theory and promoting GCV barter and sign up mapofPi within the ecosystem. It is evident that the success of the Pi Network will require sustained effort over time. The OM should be viewed not as the conclusion but rather as a new beginning. We require talented individuals to assume the role of GCV Ambassadors, maintaining support for the successful OM of the Pi Network and fostering an enduring GCV community to enhance education and ecosystem prosperity. Thus, all GCV Ambassadors are encouraged to thoroughly review the Pioneers Handbook. To date, I have authored content addressing topic #91, striving to answer relevant inquiries and provide guidance.

From December 2024 until April 6, 2025, we transitioned into the Open Network on February 20, 2025. However, this development did not unfold as comprehensively as many pioneers had anticipated. Consequently, a divide emerged within the GCV community, comprising two factions. One faction, termed "pragmatists," is represented by me and the Global GCV Core Team, who emphasize addressing challenges through practical solutions and approaches. The opposing faction referred to as "idealists," is represented by Indonesian pioneer Mr. Dimas Nawawi, who advocates for the belief that all arrangements made by the PCT are perfect and that pioneers should simply wait for OM.

Mr. Dimas argued that PCT has accepted the code with a Pi value GCV of $314,159. Therefore, he advises all pioneers to refrain from participating in the exchange market and to await significant updates as indicated by the code.

As a pragmatist, I must express my concerns: Since the Pi Network transitioned to Open Network on February 20, 2025, over a month has passed without any communication from PCT regarding a deadline for activating the code. This lack of information suggests that PCT cannot decide because they need pioneers to participate and collaborate. We should not presume that PCT has effectively organized all aspects because only pioneers can decide the price on exchange market not PCT. If they had, they would have provided a comprehensive roadmap or timeline.

The successful Open Market (OM) of the Pi Network is a critical historic moment. Assuming that PCT has arranged everything could be dangerous if we miss the timing when PCT need us. It is important that we do not make assumptions on our own. We can only consider giving up our efforts when we receive confirmation from PCT.

Since we have not received any guidance or indication from PCT, given their recent domain name auction and KYC/ activation wallet update requiring participation from pioneers, we should take action. Purchasing Pi from the exchange market poses no harm to the Pi Network or its pioneers but bring huge benefit for Pi Network and pioneers. We encourage pioneers to buy according to their ability and focus on those who haven't migrated their Pi, as well as on outside users who might participate in the auction. This is a good opportunity for the Pi Network to gain more influence and attract more users. So, why are we against taking this proactive approach?

Furthermore, I would like to highlight that the Pi Network source code is intended for the Pi Network community and should comply with regulations set forth by governments worldwide. The Know Your Business (KYB) initiative currently lists only five exchange markets, indicating that PCT requires the support of pioneers to stabilize the Pi coin at the GCV on exchange market before listing another ecosystem for KYB. PCT are not permitted to interfere with the pricing of the exchange market.

The transition of the Pi Network to Open Network implies not only a technical restructuring but also necessitates the public endorsement of our GCV for it to be legally recognized globally. Therefore, the exchange market emerges as the sole platform for establishing price stability.

When discussing the value of Pi, we refer to it as a currency. We have successfully established this through the blockchain ecosystem. This aligns with the vision and mission of the Pi Network, which aims to position Pi as a legitimate currency. However, the journey towards currency acceptance is fraught with challenges. Can it gain acceptance from all governments? Although Pi Network is defined as digital currency, but regulatory bodies will impose similar scrutiny as a traditional cryptocurrency because it is a cryptocurrency. But we are difference cryptocurrency. Despite our ecosystem's development within an enclosed mainnet, it remains hidden from the external world, and numerous countries prohibit the use of cryptocurrencies as a payment method. Thus, for the Pi Network to attain global acceptance, we cannot transition to a currency role hastily; we must adopt a gradual approach.

I believe that PCT plans to utilize the exchange market as a bridge to introduce the Pi Network to the world and demonstrate its distinction from first-generation cryptocurrencies. PCT is committed to complying with regulations and desires pioneers to collectively demonstrate the community's capability to stabilize the Pi price in the exchange market. This commitment underscores why I cannot concur with Mr. Dimas. If we withdraw from the exchange market and revert to the previous conditions of an enclosed mainnet, we will be unable to realize the potential of Pi as a payment method.

It is apparent that many pioneers, possibly including GCV Ambassadors, anticipate that PCT will announce the Pi price on the exchange market upon the initiation of 100 decentralized applications (Dapps), leading them to believe that buying back Pi on the exchange is unnecessary.

I must state clearly that if PCT announces a price on the exchange market, it could be subject to investigation for market manipulation; the market alone should dictate the price. Furthermore, pioneers ought to adopt the perspective of merchants. Would they be willing to accept Pi as payment while its price remains volatile? Businesses must account for the costs associated with materials, wages, rental, utilities, and taxes in FIAT. How can they sustain operations if they accept a GCV of 1 Pi, only to convert it at the prevailing exchange price of $0.6 or less or more? Such a dual pricing system would deter merchants from engaging with Dapps, which are reliant on the participation of merchants and service providers. Therefore, even if Dapps were to define 1 Pi as equivalent to GCV, merchants may opt out or withhold their products and services if they perceive high risks. As a result, we should not anticipate that the emergence of Dapps will alter the exchange market prices.

My point is that changing the exchange price to the stable coin GCV is pioneers responsibility especially is our GCV Ambassadors responsibility and it is very easy, but we must unite together to make it happen. I can see PCT waiting for us to demonstrate our strength and power in the exchange market. They are employing a similar strategy: controlling the supply on the exchange market by limiting migration to pioneers' wallets. This allows pioneers to utilize the exchange market to buy Pi for domain name auctions. Currently, we see that they will provide pioneers with the option to apply for KYC through the third party, Banxa. Pioneers will pay with Pi with equal fiat value and cover the application fees. Additionally, they will allow pioneers who have passed KYC or are tentatively KYC-approved to activate their wallets. So when they activate their wallets but they cannot get migrated Pi, they can only go to exchange market to buy. We can see all PCT strategy is to increase the demand of Pi usage from exchange market.

Clearly, PCT wants pioneers to purchase Pi from the exchange market and transfer it to their own wallets instead of migrating from their mined Pi. Why? This is to increase the demand for Pi on the exchange market. Banxa charges a flat fee in USD, meaning that regardless of the Pi price on the exchange market, they charge the same amount in USD. This indicates that when the exchange market lists GCV, pioneers will be able to pay less Pi than they would currently when Pi is at a low price. Therefore, from this analysis, we can conclude that PCT needs the exchange market to achieve a stable coin price instead of merely announcing the price of Pi. Only when the exchange market proves Pi is a stable coin can they activate the code for GCV across the entire ecosystem.

We can see our long journey from creating Pi's value to establishing its price. This is because Pi's value is determined by the community while we are in the enclosed mainnet. After the Open Network launch, we need to reach out to global users and companies and different countries government. We need the exchange market for them to recognize the Pi Network and GCV, rather than us telling them about it. Furthermore, all Dapps or offline ecosystems require a stable and healthy commercial environment to reduce business risks for merchants and service providers. We must ensure that Pi becomes a stable coin in the exchange market, and its price must align with its value. Initially, during the Open Mainnet, all merchants and service providers need a way to convert their Pi sales into fiat to cover their costs and expenses. They can only be independent of fiat when a complete supply chain for the Pi industry is established. This means that only when all suppliers accept Pi as payment and governments recognize Pi as a currency can merchants and service providers operate without fiat. Otherwise, the exchange market will still be their source of fiat, and stability in that channel is essential for their sustainability. Without that, they will face cash flow problems and cannot accurately record their business transactions in an accounting system.

I hope my speech today helps you understand why we are shifting our priority from the ecosystem to the exchange market. This change is essential because we need to realize GCV full Pi payments not current partial Pi Payment.. Partial Pi payment is the strategy I used for enclosed mainnet to create the blockchain data. We have been using partial Pi payments for more than half a year, and we have already reached our initial goal, which indicates that GCV has been integrated into Pi's value code. We can continue to use partial Pi payments for small items, but if we rely solely on this strategy without incorporating the exchange market strategy, we will remain stuck. Therefore, I urge all GCV Ambassadors to fully comprehend what I have said so that you can elevate your perspective and understand the reasons behind this shift.

Some of you may question the feasibility of buyout low-priced Pi from the exchange market, as some pioneers believe it is impossible. This mindset is entirely incorrect and stems from a first-generation crypto viewpoint. Yes, in traditional crypto contexts, this may be true it is impossible due to the lack of a strong community and ecosystem to support it. This mentality is often shaped by short-term views and speculation. However, today, we have GCV embedded in our code, a myriad of GCV merchants waiting for us, and the Pioneers Handbook to educate our community. We need to teach pioneers to sell only at GCV and to actively respond to all PCT calls so that we can buy back Pi in the exchange market for domain auctions and for KYC processes to activate their wallets for transferring Pi. With 40 million pioneers yet to pass KYC, when they apply for KYC through Banxa, it will create substantial demand for Pi on exchange market. We can build strong demand for Pi and we can see PCT is doing the same thing; the only thing we need to do is take action instead of waiting. The idealists who advocate waiting are fundamentally mistaken. That is why you are here today. All of you should be confident in your role as qualified GCV Ambassadors. This is your honorable mission to guide your community.

Next Sunday or later, we will hold an International X Space conference. After today's GCV Ambassador conference, all of you should share this information with your country's community. We have one mission and one goal: to successfully realize GCV in the open mainnet soon.

In conclusion, I urge all GCV Ambassadors to embrace unity, adhere to established strategies, and engage proactively with your communities to foster a robust support PCT guidance. Thank you for your commitment and dedication. (Doris Yin - Founder, Global GCV Movement)

The Strategic Roles of GCV Ambassadors and the Foundations of Ethical Leadership

Good day, esteemed GCV Ambassadors, Esteemed Core Team Members, Respected GCV Core Committee Members, and distinguished leaders from across the globe!

It is with great honor and excitement that I welcome you all today to this monumental gathering. Whether you're joining us from the farthest corners of the world or closer to home, your presence here reflects your unwavering commitment to the global GCV movement. Today, we stand together, united in purpose, vision, and mission.

A special and heartfelt acknowledgement goes to Ms. Doris Yin, the visionary founder of the GCV movement. Without her tireless dedication, leadership, and inspiration, we would not be where we are today. Ms. Doris, your relentless pursuit of creating a unified global community of pioneers has paved the way for all of us, and we are truly grateful for your guidance.

Theme of the Day:

Our theme today is:

One Vision, One Mission: GCV Ambassadors Uniting for Global Impact.

This theme is not just a phrase; it is a call to action. It encapsulates the essence of what we, as GCV Ambassadors, are striving for — to unite under a single vision and mission that transcends borders and cultures. We are here to make a difference, to create an impact that will resonate globally, and to build a legacy for future generations of pioneers. Together, we are the foundation for this global movement, and every action we take contributes to a larger, shared goal.

Now, to ensure we continue on our path with clarity and purpose, I have prepared a structured agenda for today's discussions. It is crucial that all ambassadors listen attentively, as this will help you better understand your individual roles within the GCV movement and how you can contribute to our collective success.

The topics we will cover today are essential for our continued growth, and your active participation will help us achieve our mission with unity and strength. We are all leaders in this movement, and it's important to know how we can elevate our collective impact as GCV Ambassadors.

Agenda Topics:

The Head Ambassador: The Orchestrator of National Growth

The Ambassador for Education: The Architect of Knowledge and Competence

The Ambassador for Ecological Merchants: The Catalyst for Real-World Utility

The Importance of the GCV Charter

The Importance of the Code of Conduct

The Importance of the GCV Ambassador Code of Ethics

The Importance of Reposting

These topics will guide our discussions and provide a roadmap for our collective progress. Let's work together to ensure we align with our core values and drive the GCV movement forward with purpose and integrity.

Let's get started and let's move forward together, knowing that with one shared vision, we can achieve great things for the future of the GCV movement and the global Pi Network community!

Thank you, and I look forward to a productive and impactful session ahead!

As our Head Ambassador so aptly stated, your contributions are absolutely critical to the very foundation and future growth of the Global Consensus Value Today, I want to delve deeper into the specific roles outlined for our ambassadors and underscore just how vital each of these positions is in building the robust infrastructure we envision.

We have three key ambassador roles defined here: the Head Ambassador, the Ambassador for Education, and the Ambassador for Ecological Merchants. Each plays a distinct yet interconnected part in our mission.

The Head Ambassador: The Orchestrator of National Growth

Think of the Head Ambassador as the conductor of our national GCV orchestra. They are the linchpin for coordinating all GCV activities within their country. Their role is paramount because they:

Provide Leadership and Direction: They are not just figureheads; they are the motivators and guides for our regional ambassadors. They set the tone, inspire action, and ensure everyone is working towards a common vision. Without strong leadership at the national level, our efforts risk becoming fragmented and less effective.

Ensure Coordination and Alignment: The Head Ambassador acts as the central point of contact, ensuring that the efforts of regional ambassadors, the education ambassador, and the merchant ambassador are synchronized. This prevents duplication of effort and maximizes our collective impact.

Set Goals and Drive Progress: By establishing weekly targets for merchant enrollment and bartering events, the Head Ambassador provides a tangible roadmap for progress. This focus on measurable goals allows us to track our achievements and identify areas needing more attention.

Monitor Performance and Provide Support: Regularly tracking progress and offering feedback to regional ambassadors is crucial for maintaining morale and addressing challenges proactively. The Head Ambassador acts as a mentor and supporter, ensuring our teams on the ground have the resources and guidance they need.

Act as the Key Communicator: Reporting progress to the GCV Global Core Team and effectively communicating successes and challenges within the national team ensures transparency and allows for strategic adjustments at a higher level.

Facilitate Merchant Engagement: Collaborating with the Merchant Ambassador to recruit and integrate businesses is a direct contribution to expanding the practical utility and adoption of GCV.

Without a strong and effective Head Ambassador, our national efforts risk lacking direction, coordination, and the drive necessary to achieve significant growth. Their leadership is the engine that propels our infrastructure development forward at the country level.

The Ambassador for Education: The Architect of Knowledge and Competence

The Ambassador for Education is the architect of our team's understanding and capabilities. Their role is absolutely essential because:

They Build a Knowledgeable Foundation: By developing and delivering comprehensive training programs, they equip our ambassadors with the necessary understanding of GCV principles and goals. A well-informed team is a confident and effective team.

They Ensure Consistent Messaging: Standardized training ensures that all ambassadors are communicating accurate and consistent information about GCV, building trust and clarity within the community.

They Measure and Improve Effectiveness: Regular assessments allow us to gauge the impact of our training and identify areas where further education is needed. This continuous improvement cycle is vital for maintaining a high level of competence.

They Foster a Culture of Learning: By promoting continuous learning and recognizing achievements through certifications, the Education Ambassador cultivates a motivated and engaged team that is committed to growth.

They Adapt to Evolving Needs: Continuously updating training materials ensures our ambassadors are equipped with the latest information and can effectively address new developments within the GCV ecosystem.

They Directly Support the Head Ambassador's Goals: By ensuring regional ambassadors are well-trained, the Education Ambassador directly contributes to their ability to meet the targets set by the Head Ambassador.

Without a dedicated Ambassador for Education, our team risks a lack of consistent knowledge, potential for misinformation, and a diminished capacity to effectively represent and build the GCV infrastructure. Their work is the bedrock upon which our operational success is built.

The Ambassador for Ecological Merchants: The Catalyst for Real-World Utility

The Ambassador for Ecological Merchants is the bridge between GCV and tangible, real-world utility, particularly focusing on environmentally conscious businesses. Their role is critical because:

They Drive Merchant Adoption: Identifying, engaging, and supporting merchants to integrate into the GCV ecosystem is fundamental to creating practical use cases for our currency. Without merchants, GCV remains largely theoretical.

They Focus on Key Sectors: The emphasis on ecological industries like agriculture and real estate aligns with a growing global awareness of sustainability and positions GCV within important and impactful markets.

They Build Lasting Relationships: Developing strong, long-term relationships with merchants fosters trust and encourages continued participation and growth within the ecosystem.

They Facilitate Integration and Problem-Solving: Providing support during the onboarding process and addressing any issues ensures a smooth and positive experience for merchants, encouraging further adoption.

They Expand Our Network's Reach: By focusing on specific sectors, they help to build concentrated networks of businesses that can drive significant transaction volume and community engagement.

They Directly Contribute to Bartering Activity: Successfully integrating merchants directly fuels the bartering events that are a key indicator of GCV's practical application.

Without a proactive and effective Ambassador for Ecological Merchants, our ability to demonstrate the real-world value of GCV will be significantly limited. Their efforts are crucial for translating the potential of GCV into tangible economic activity and building a sustainable ecosystem.

Interdependence and Shared Responsibility:

It is crucial to recognize that these three roles are not isolated. They are interdependent and require close collaboration. The Head Ambassador relies on the Education Ambassador to ensure their team is well-prepared, and both rely on the Merchant Ambassador to bring practical utility to the forefront.

Each of you, in whichever of these roles you serve, is a vital component of our infrastructure-building efforts. Your dedication, your skills, and your commitment to your responsibilities are what will ultimately determine our success. By understanding the importance of your individual role and working collaboratively towards our shared goals, we will indeed strengthen the GCV infrastructure and make a lasting impact on our global community.

The Importance of the GCV Charter Let me discuss the GCV Charter—our guiding document, the blueprint that defines our values, our mission, and, ultimately, our path forward. It is not just a set of rules, but a symbol of our collective commitment to the ideals of transparency, cooperation, and integrity. The GCV Charter is the bedrock upon which the future of the Pi Network rests, and it is our responsibility as Ambassadors to ensure that we uphold and follow it with every decision, action, and interaction.

The Importance of the GCV Charter As we all know, the Pi Network is not just about mining or earning. It's about building something that will stand the test of time—a decentralized, sustainable economy that benefits pioneers globally. And how do we make this vision a reality? It begins with adherence to the Charter.

The Charter gives us direction, structure, and most importantly, unity. In a community as vast and diverse as ours, it's easy to lose sight of the bigger picture. But with the Charter as our guide, we stay focused on what truly matters—creating a global movement that thrives on mutual respect, ethical behavior, and shared responsibility.

Our Responsibility as Ambassadors As GCV Ambassadors, you are not just representatives of the Pi Network in your region—you are leaders. You are educators, advocates, and catalysts for change. Your role is to inspire, to teach, and to ensure that every pioneer within your community understands the importance of the Pi Network and the responsibility that comes with being a part of it.

You are the ones who set the tone for how we engage with one another. By following the GCV Charter, you ensure that the principles of honesty, transparency, and respect remain at the forefront of everything we do. Your actions, your leadership, and your example will determine the success of the Pi Network, not just for us today but for the generations that will follow.

Fostering Global Collaboration The power of the Pi Network lies in its ability to unite people from every corner of the globe. As Ambassadors, you have the opportunity—and the responsibility—to encourage cross-border collaboration. Each of us brings something unique to the table, and by working together, we can overcome any challenge and seize every opportunity that comes our way. The GCV Charter reminds us that our differences are not barriers, but strengths. Let's continue to celebrate our diversity, and let it be the driving force behind our collective success.

Education and Ecosystem Development One of our key goals as Ambassadors is education—helping pioneers understand not only how to use Pi but why it matters. The transition to a post-Open Mainnet world will require careful guidance, and you are the ones who will lead this effort. You will support the development of local ecosystems, onboard merchants, and ensure that Pi is used in everyday transactions. This is no small task, but the GCV Charter equips us with the tools and principles necessary to succeed.

The Path Ahead The path ahead may not always be easy. There will be challenges, and there will be moments of uncertainty. But as long as we adhere to the Charter—staying true to our values of collaboration, education, and integrity—there is no obstacle we cannot overcome.

Our collective goal is to see Pi reach its full potential and to build a community that thrives on mutual respect and shared purpose. The GCV Community is not just a network of people; it is a movement, a vision, a dream that we are all working towards. And as Ambassadors, we have the privilege and responsibility to guide this movement with conviction and dedication.

The Importance of Our Code of Conduct Let me discuss the fundamental to who we are as the Global GCV Core Committee: our Code of Conduct. This isn't just a document we file away; it is the very blueprint for how we operate, collaborate, and ultimately, achieve our shared goals.

Looking at the tenets outlined, we see a powerful framework designed to foster a thriving and effective environment. Each point, from facilitating knowledge sharing to practicing gratitude, plays a vital role in building a strong and impactful committee.

Consider the importance of facilitating knowledge sharing, sharing insights and experiences to benefit others. We are a collective of diverse talents and perspectives. By actively sharing what we know, we empower each other, broaden our understanding, and ultimately make better decisions. This collaborative spirit is the bedrock of our collective intelligence.

Equally crucial is the need to create opportunities for leadership and recognize individual contributions. A vibrant committee encourages everyone to step up and contribute their unique skills. By acknowledging the value each member brings, we foster a sense of belonging and empower individuals to take ownership and drive initiatives forward.

Our Code also emphasizes the significance of being open to new ideas and fostering a sense of community. Innovation and progress stem from welcoming diverse perspectives and creating an environment where everyone feels comfortable sharing their thoughts, even if they challenge the status quo. Building strong relationships amongst members strengthens our bonds and enhances our ability to work together seamlessly.

Furthermore, the call to maintain consistency and encourage participation ensures that our interactions are predictable, reliable, and inclusive. Upholding standards consistently across all interactions builds trust and allows us to operate with efficiency. By actively inviting all members to contribute ideas and feedback, we tap into the full potential of our team and ensure that all voices are heard.

In our communication, being mindful of tone and using respectful language is paramount. Respectful dialogue fosters a positive and productive atmosphere, allowing for constructive criticism and healthy debate without damaging relationships.

Finally, our Code reminds us to uphold the movement's reputation and practice gratitude. We are ambassadors of the GCV. Our actions and interactions reflect on the entire organization. By protecting and enhancing the GCV brand, we contribute to its overall success and impact. And by regularly expressing appreciation for team efforts and achievements, we cultivate a culture of recognition and motivation.

In conclusion, our Code of Conduct is not merely a set of rules; it is a living document that guides our behavior and shapes our culture. By consciously embracing these principles, we strengthen our collaboration, amplify our impact, and ensure that the Global GCV Core Committee continues to operate with integrity, respect, and a shared commitment to excellence.

Let us all commit to embodying these principles in our daily interactions, knowing that by doing so, we are building a stronger, more effective, and more fulfilling committee for ourselves and for the wider GCV community.

Importance of GCV Ambassador Code of Ethics

As you know, this comprehensive document outlines the principles that guide our actions, shape our interactions, and ultimately define our impact within the Pi Network community.

It's crucial to understand that this isn't just a document to be read and then set aside. This Code, encompassing 40 distinct and vital points, is the bedrock of our credibility, the compass for our conduct, and the key to building a strong and trustworthy GCV movement.

Why is this Code so important? Because as GCV Ambassadors, we are the face of this initiative within the vast and dynamic Pi Network. Our actions, our words, and our behaviors directly reflect upon the integrity and reputation of GCV. The trust that pioneers place in us is paramount, and this trust is earned and maintained by our unwavering commitment to ethical conduct.

Within these 40 points, you will find guidance that touches upon every aspect of your role:

It emphasizes the paramount importance of trust and credibility. From acting with honesty and integrity to actively combating misinformation, these principles ensure we remain a reliable and respected voice within the community.

It clearly defines our responsibilities in promoting and representing GCV. We are tasked with elevating its status through education, responsible advocacy, and a focus on the ecosystem's development, always prioritizing the community's understanding.

It establishes clear boundaries against conflicts of interest and unethical behavior. The Code unequivocally prohibits personal financial gain from our ambassadorial roles and demands complete transparency in any financial activities related to GCV.

It fosters a culture of unity, collaboration, and respect. We are called to support one another, resolve disputes constructively, and communicate in a manner that is inclusive and free from discrimination.

It safeguards the integrity of the entire GCV movement. By outlining the voluntary nature of our roles, the importance of adhering to official channels, and the consequences of misconduct, the Code ensures the long-term health and ethical standing of GCV.

Each of these 40 points, from the obligation to verify information to the prohibition of using our status for personal gain, from fostering unity to respecting the decisions of the Pi Network Core Team, is a vital thread in the fabric of our ethical framework. Neglecting even one thread can weaken the entire structure.

Therefore, I urge each and every one of you to not only familiarize yourselves with these 40 points but to internalize them. Let them be your guiding principles in every interaction, every communication, and every decision you make as a GCV Ambassador.

Remember, our title is not a badge of personal power or prestige. It is a responsibility — a qualification to serve our community voluntarily and ethically. By upholding this 40-point Code of Ethics, we collectively strengthen the GCV movement, build unwavering trust within the Pi Network, and pave the way for a successful and impactful future.

Let us embrace these principles wholeheartedly and continue to be ambassadors of integrity, responsibility, and positive change.

Understanding the Difference: Code of Conduct vs. Code of Ethics

Esteemed GCV Ambassadors,
As we delve deeper into the importance of our guiding principles, it's essential to understand the distinction between a Code of Conduct and a Code of Ethics. While often used interchangeably, they serve slightly different but complementary purposes.

Think of it this way:
A Code of Ethics focuses on principles and values. It outlines the fundamental moral ideals and beliefs that should guide our behavior. It answers the question: "What is the right thing to do?"
A Code of Conduct, on the other hand, translates those principles and values into specific rules and expected behaviors. It provides concrete guidelines for action in various situations. It answers the question: "How should we act in specific circumstances?"

Breakdown
Code of Ethics:
Focus: Broad moral principles, values, and the overall ethical philosophy of the organization or group.
Nature: More aspirational and principle-based. It sets a higher-level tone for ethical behavior.

Scope: Often broader, encompassing general ideals like honesty, integrity, fairness, and responsibility.
Guidance: Provides a framework for ethical decision-making when specific rules may not apply. It encourages individuals to consider the ethical implications of their actions.

Example: The underlying principle of acting with "honesty, integrity, and objectivity" is an ethical foundation. It's a core value that guides how we should approach all our interactions.

Code of Conduct:
Focus: Specific rules, regulations, and expected behaviors in particular situations.

Nature: More prescriptive and rule-based. It outlines what is acceptable and unacceptable behavior.

Scope: More specific, addressing concrete actions and situations that ambassadors might encounter.

Guidance: Provides clear guidelines for how to act in defined circumstances, reducing ambiguity. It often includes specific prohibitions and requirements.

Example: The rule stating that "GCV Ambassadors should not collect money for personal gain" is a specific conduct guideline derived from the broader ethical principle of integrity and avoiding conflicts of interest. Similarly, the instructions on verifying information are concrete behavioral expectations.

In essence:
Our Code of Ethics lays the moral groundwork — the "why" behind our expected behavior.

Our Code of Conduct provides the practical instructions — the "how" of putting those ethical principles into action.

For us as GCV Ambassadors:
Our 40-point document serves as a comprehensive Code of Conduct, drawing its strength and justification from underlying ethical principles. Each of those 40 points is a specific guideline designed to ensure we uphold the highest ethical standards in our roles.

Understanding this distinction helps us appreciate that our Code of Conduct isn't just an arbitrary list of rules. It is a tangible expression of our commitment to core ethical values. By adhering to each of these 40 points, we are not just following regulations; we are actively embodying the principles of trust, integrity, and responsible leadership that are essential for the success and reputation of the GCV movement.

Let us always remember the ethical foundation upon which our Code of Conduct is built, ensuring that our actions are not only compliant but also morally sound and contribute positively to the Pi Network community.

The Importance of Reposting (Commitment to Daily Reposting of Ms. Doris' Articles)

Today, I want to underscore with absolute clarity the critical importance of diligently following both our Code of Ethics and our Code of Conduct. These are not mere suggestions or guidelines; they are the very pillars upon which our credibility, our effectiveness, and the future of the GCV movement are built.

As part of our collective mission to strengthen and unify the global GCV movement, I want to emphasize a very important requirement that must be followed by all official GCV Ambassadors: the daily reposting of Ms. Doris' articles.

These articles are not just regular posts. They are strategic messages that carry the heartbeat of our movement. They provide education, vision, and direction. When we all repost the same message, we show global alignment, unity, and strength. This is how we move as one.

Starting today, every ambassador is required to repost Ms. Doris' articles on X (Twitter) every day. This is a part of your official responsibility and commitment to the movement.

To help us track and monitor everyone's consistency, you must tag me (@Lumari), Mr. JoJo, and Mr. Ange in your daily reposts. This allows us to see your activity and engagement clearly and ensures that your efforts are recognized and accounted for.

Mr. Ange from Benin has been officially assigned to monitor all daily postings on X. He will be keeping track and reporting on the progress of each ambassador.

In addition, I want to remind you all to stay active in our Telegram groups, especially the Ambassadors' GC. Important announcements and instructions are posted there daily. You are required to check and acknowledge these updates as part of your ambassador duties.

Let me be very clear about our accountability system:
On the first offense (no repost, no activity), we will issue a formal warning and notification.

If there's continued lack of progress, this will lead to the revocation of your ambassador certificate.

Failure to repost daily, as well as failing to follow the Code of Conduct, will result in a warning or revocation of your ambassador certificate.

The following Code of Conduct violations may apply:
Be Accountable: Failing to take responsibility for your actions and decisions regarding your posting duties.

Honor Commitments: Not following through on the daily reposting commitment.

Act with Integrity: Not acting consistently with the ethical standards of the GCV movement.

Uphold Organizational Policies: Disregarding the clearly established guidelines for ambassador duties.

Respect All Members: Failing to contribute to the movement in a way that reflects respect for all community members.

Promote Teamwork: Not engaging in collective efforts by failing to repost and align with the movement's direction.

This is not about punishment—it's about discipline, integrity, and commitment. We are building something historic, and that requires consistency from each of us.

Let's remain united. Let's stay focused. Let's uphold the responsibility that comes with the title GCV Ambassador with pride and honor.

Together, we will continue to rise. Together, we will move mountains. Together, we are GCV.

One Vision. One Mission. One GCV. (Lumari - Executive Director, Global GCV CT)

IGNITE THE FLAME: A Global Call to GCV Ambassadors to Rise, Unite, and Lead the Revolution

Jojo

Dear Ms. Doris Yin,
The Founding Global GCV Ambassador, the pioneer who lit the first flame of our worldwide GCV movement.

Respected Leaders of the Global GCV Core Team,

Esteemed Executive Director and Chair of the GCV Core Committee,

And especially, to all GCV Ambassadors from across the world, attending this historic conference today —

From the bottom of my heart, I send my deepest gratitude and admiration to Ms. Doris Yin. It is her remarkable vision and unshakable determination that have brought us together under this common banner. Thanks to her, we are here — not just to meet, but to reflect on our past journey and set our sights firmly on the future.

I also extend my sincerest thanks to the entire GCV Core Team leadership for the honor of being invited to speak at this pivotal moment in our movement's history.

ONE VISION, ONE MISSION
GCV AMBASSADORS UNITING FOR GLOBAL IMPACT

This is my first time addressing GCV Ambassadors from across the globe — and I stand here not only humbled, but energized, proud, and most of all — responsible.

WE ARE WRITING HISTORY

We are not participants of a trend. We are the authors of a revolution — a global value revolution for the first truly community-mined digital currency: Pi Network.

And within this revolution, we — the GCV Ambassadors — are its soul, its heartbeat, its guiding light through every storm.

But I must speak candidly today: Too many lights have dimmed.

Voices that once echoed with power are now silent. Accounts that once led movements have gone quiet.

Hearts that once burned with belief have started to fade.

WE CANNOT SLEEP WHILE THE MISSION REMAINS

UNFINISHED
We cannot stay silent when the community needs our voices. We cannot fall when we are so close to the finish line! Six years. Six years is not a short walk in the park. It is blood, sweat, tears, time, belief, sacrifice — all placed on a dream:

1 Pi = 314,159 USD. And this dream is no longer just a dream. It's becoming real.

Every ecosystem transaction, every GCV-accepting merchant, every nation embracing this movement — they are proof.

SO I ASK YOU TODAY:

If we rest now — who will carry on this mission? If the leaders retreat — who will light the fire for the next generation?

A CALL TO ACTION — FROM THE HEART
I am not calling for a grand return. I am calling for simple, daily action.

Just one post. Just one answer. One shared story.

One new connection. If every ambassador did that every day — imagine the unstoppable global wave we would unleash! The momentum would spread from one community to the next, from one nation to another. Every post, every conversation is a step toward realizing the dream we all share.

We are building a future that will outlive us. Our children will look back and remember that we were the ones who had the courage to make the impossible possible.

This is more than a financial movement; it is a movement for justice, for equality, for a new world order in which the value of human labor and trust is respected by the global economy. It is a call to set the foundation for the economic freedom we all deserve.

REMEMBER OUR COMMITMENT
Remember what we swore: We will not give up. We will protect our vision. We will walk the GCV path until Pi reaches Open Mainnet.

GCV is not a slogan — it is a mission. It is the compass that protects the value of our years of mining. It is the only shield against black markets.

It is the only way to lead Pi into the real economy with dignity and strength.

TO ALL GCV AMBASSADORS

This conference isn't to remind you who you are. It is to awaken the greatness within you — The leader of a new future.

The builder of a fair, decentralized world for humanity. We are here not just to talk about the future — we are here to create it. We do not need to wait for others to validate our work, because we are already building the future today.

Do not let the noise distract you. We don't need to justify ourselves to the world — Because on the day Pi reaches Open Mainnet, The world will recognize us!

RISE UP, UNITE, IGNITE THE MOVEMENT

Let us rise together — Nation by nation, Region by region, Leader by leader.

Let us keep the fire of GCV alive until the very end — And when victory comes, Your name will be etched in history.

TAKE ACTION NOW!

In this very room are the leaders who will shape the future. The actions you take today will set the course for the world tomorrow. Take action now. Reach out to your communities. Educate, inspire, and recruit more ambassadors. If each of us reaches out to one new ambassador, we expand our movement exponentially.

You do not have to wait for permission. The world has already given us the green light — this is our moment!

WE ARE A FAMILY

We are not alone in this journey. We are a family, bound by one mission. Every ambassador here is not just a leader, but a beacon of hope for the millions who are watching and waiting to be led. You are the light that will guide them.

So I ask you, all of you who are here today — are you ready to ignite the spark? Are you ready to be the ones who not only carry the torch forward, but pass it on to others?

Thank you for listening. Together, we are more than a movement. We are a revolution. Long live GCV.

Pi for Humanity. Together, we make history. United We Stand — GCV Ambassadors!

DTI-Laguna Hosts Seminar on Financial Literacy cum Consumer Education for DSWD Sustainable Livelihood Program Beneficiaries

Pagsanjan, Laguna — The Department of Trade and Industry – Laguna Provincial Office (DTI-Laguna) through Negosyo Center Pagsanjan, in collaboration with the Local Government Unit of Pagsanjan and the Department of Social Welfare and Development (DSWD), conducted a seminar on “Financial Literacy and Consumer Education” on March 21, 2025, for DSWD beneficiaries under Sustainable Livelihood Program (SLP) in line with the annual celebration of Bangkero Festival 2025.

The event was held at 2nd Floor Tourism Hall, Municipal Building, Pagsanjan, Laguna. The goal of this seminar was to educate attendees on how to efficiently manage their personal and business finances and live as smart consumers by upholding their rights and responsibilities as consumers, which would help them become financially independent and improve their standard of living.

A thorough approach to financial literacy was given, which included important subjects including financial planning, cash flow management, and budgeting. It also covered consumer rights as well as responsibilities to safeguard and guarantee equitable treatment. Understanding the fundamentals—such as product warranties, return policies, and pricing—that were covered in the discussion is part of the consumer's rights and responsibilities. It also tackled staying up with consumer trends, problems, and frauds while taking the time to research goods and services before making a purchase. By covering these topics, the SLP beneficiaries acquire a solid foundation in financial literacy and consumer education, helping them make informed financial decisions and navigate the marketplace more effectively.

Adding a creative touch to the event and to better assess the result of the discussion, a question-and-answer portion was undertaken that brought emphasis to how the topic was imparted to the listener of the seminar. Also, they undergo a financial assessment by answering some questions that involve the attendees financial handling skills and situation in order for them to know what level of financial stability they are at.

Through this initiative, the DTI-Laguna and its partners aim to inspire and ensure that DSWD beneficiaries under the SLP in Pagsanjan, Laguna, became better equipped with the knowledge to manage their finances effectively, make wise consumer choices, and contribute to their economic independence and livelihood development (VDAvarez, DTI-Laguna).

gastronomic tourism hub. The first day of training, focused on discussions led by food safety experts from DOST-FNRI.

Ms. Claire Malibiran-Gacias, Science Research Specialist II, explained the FIC and COS, while Ms. Mary Ann D. Gironella, Supervising Science Research Specialist provided a detailed guide on the OM for Risk-Based Inspections. Moreover, Mr. Eirene Agustin B. Arnejo, Science Research Specialist I demonstrated the Risk-Based Inspection process, covering evaluation criteria, required documentation, and compliance measures.

On the second day of the training, participants applied their knowledge in mock inspections at two well-known Tuguegarao City food establishments. This practical exercise allowed them to assess real-world compliance with the Food Safety Grading System, identifying strengths and areas for improvement.

The participants were grouped and assigned to different criteria, allowing them to inspect two establishments. The activity reinforced the importance of systematic food inspections, equipping participants with the necessary skills to conduct regulatory assessments, which they can apply in their respective institutions.

With this initiative, Tuguegarao City becomes the first LGU in the country to conduct training on the Food Safety Grading System.

The training gathered 60 participants from various institutions, including Quirino State University (QSU), Cagayan State University (CSU), Medical Colleges of Northern Philippines (MCNP), University of Saint Louis Tuguegarao (USLT), and University of Cagayan Valley (UCV). Representatives from key government agencies, such as the Cagayan Tourism Office, City Tourism Office, Provincial Warden Office, and City Health Office, as well as representatives from the Provincial Offices of DOST Region 02, also participated in the training.

By strengthening food safety enforcement, the DOST Region 02, under the leadership of Dr. Virginia G. Bilgera, DOT Region 02 led by Dr. Troy Alexander Miano, DOST-FNRI and other agencies partnership ensures that local food establishments adhere to high safety standards, benefiting both residents and tourists. As Tuguegarao City the implementation of this pioneering training initiative, other LGUs in the region may soon follow, setting a new benchmark for food safety and quality in the country.

camaraderie and strengthen bilateral engagements between the two armies, building upon the foundation established by the 2015 Joint Statement on the Establishment of a Strategic Partnership between the Philippines and Vietnam.

During Galido's three-day trip, he rendered a courtesy call on Gen. Nguyen Tan Cuong, chief of the general staff of the VPA, followed by a bilateral meeting with Lt. Gen. Nguyen Van Nghia, deputy chief of the general staff, at the Ministry of Defense headquarters in Hanoi.

"Lt. Gen. Galido also observed a capability demonstration at the VPA's Special Forces Academy and toured the Viettel High Tech Company, a leading technology provider which plays a key role in enhancing Vietnam's military technology and defense capabilities," Dema-ala said.

Meanwhile, the bilateral meeting between Galido and top VPA officials provided a venue for professional discussions on topics of mutual interest, including an exchange of experience, knowledge, and information.

This also includes identifying opportunities for capability development for both organizations, potentially leading to the establishment of formal terms of reference in the future. (PNA)

Filipinos urged to unite, sustain gains of peace on Araw ng Kagitingan

As the country observes the 83rd anniversary of Araw ng Kagitingan (Day of Valor) this Wednesday, Office of the Presidential Adviser on Peace, Reconciliation, and Unity (OPAPRU) Secretary Carlito Galvez Jr. hopes that commemoration of this historic event will further strengthen Filipinos' resolve to defend the country against aggression.

"May the commemoration of this fateful event further strengthen our resolve to protect our homeland against foreign aggression and inspire unity among Filipinos," he said in a statement.

Galvez said the best way to honor the country's fallen heroes is by working together to sustain the gains of peace which they have fought so hard to achieve.

"The men and women of the OPAPRU are one with the Filipino people as we pay tribute to the thousands of Filipino soldiers who made the ultimate sacrifice during the Fall of Bataan over eight decades ago," he added.

The OPAPRU chief also said that Araw ng

Kagitingan not only honors the gallantry of the soldiers who perished during that fateful period in history, but is also a reminder of sacrifices made in defending the country and securing a just and lasting peace.

"On this Day of Valor, let us keep in mind that we don't need to be in the frontlines of battle to become a hero. Each and every one of us, with our unique set of skills and talents, can become one by becoming beacons of peace, mutual understanding and solidarity among our people," he added. (PNA)

INDUSTRIALIST VICTOR LIM ELECTED AS NEW PRESIDENT OF FFCCCII

MANILA, PHILIPPINES – The Federation of Filipino Chinese Chambers of Commerce and Industry, Inc. (FFCCCII) today April 6, 2025, announced the election of industrialist and philanthropist Victor Lim as its new President following a three-day biennial national convention and three rounds of voting by 800 delegates representing 170 Filipino Chinese business chambers and organizations. The convention was held at SMX Convention Center in Pasay City.

Lim succeeds outgoing President Dr. Cecilio K. Pedro, who led FFCCCII's post-pandemic recovery and digitalization initiatives from 2023-2025. The transition marks a new chapter for the 71-year-old federation, the Philippines' largest coalition of Filipino Chinese entrepreneurs and philanthropists. Aside from progressive business and economic advocacies, FFCCCII spearheads numerous socio-civic and cultural charities.

A PROVEN LEADER WITH DEEP ROOTS

Victor Lim brings four decades of executive experience across manufacturing, trade, and education advocacy:

- President/CEO of VECO Paper Corporation and Everwealth Traders and Development Corporation

- Former EVP of FFCCCII and past leader of multiple industry groups:

- President: Philippine Stationeries Association, Alliance of Paper Traders Association, Philippine School Pads and Notebooks Manufacturers Association

- Adviser: Philippine Paper Industry Council

- Education Advocate: Vice President, St. Stephen's High School Board of Trustees

- Past President, St. Stephen's High School Alumni Association

- Community Bridge-Builder:

- Former leader of the Grand Family Association and Philippine Sejo Lim

Family Association

A graduate of University of Santo Tomas (BS Chemical Engineering) and St. Stephen's High School, Victor Lim embodies FFCCCII's motto: "Business Excellence with Social Responsibility." He is also first cousin of the late FFCCCII President Dr. Henry Lim Bon Liong of the Sterling Paper Group.

PH Army chief seeks closer defense ties with Vietnam

Philippine Army (PA) chief Lt. Gen. Roy Galido is looking to beef up its defense ties with the Vietnam People's Army (VPA).

The PA chief made this comment after his April 7 to 10 official visit to the Southeast Asia country, PA spokesperson Col. Louie Dema-ala said in a media release Friday.

"Army chief Lt. Gen. Roy Galido committed to stronger ties between the PA and the VPA and explored points of convergence towards enhancing both Armies' defense capabilities during his official visit," he added.
